Belated Dispatches Received in London from Two to Three Days Old.

DETAILS COME IN SLOWLY.

Some Fierce Fighting, With Honors About Evenly Divided.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A batch of delayed dispatches arrived here this morning via Lourenço Marques. They are as follows:

Pretoria, Oct. 21.—Friday's fight at Dundee stated at 5 in the morning and lasted until 2 in the afternoon. The burghers under General Lucas Meyer, took up a strong position, but were compelled to retire to their laager after capturing a Maxim. The fighting was resumed at 10 this morning in the neighborhood of Glencoe and Dundee. Several Boer forces were engaged. The firing was distinctly heard at Dannhauser.

Pretoria, Oct. 21.—New Castle is under martial law. The town is quiet. The farmers within a radius of three miles have been called upon to give an inventory of their stock in case it is required, and the citizens have been ordered to give up their arms. About 300 complied. Guards are protecting property.

Pretoria, Oct. 21.—President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, has issued a proclamation to the Basuto nation, explaining the reasons for the war and also stating that Boer forces have been placed near the Basutoland border. He makes known that the republic is at peace with the Basutos and wishes to continue so, adding that no injury will be done to Basuto remaining quiet and not assisting the British.

Pretoria, Oct. 22.—The Johannesburg burghers Holland corps has had a heavy engagement at Elandslaagte. The battle lasted twelve hours against heavy odds. Two hundred are missing and about 100 burghers are dead or wounded. It is reported that Colonel Schiel, and Field Cornets Pionaar and Joubert were killed.

Pretoria, Oct. 25.—General Joubert reports that General Cronje, commanding the Free State and Winburg forces had an engagement with the British at Elandslaagte. It lasted seven hours. Nine burghers were wounded and six were killed. All the British retired to Ladysmith.

Pretoria, Oct. 25.—The British prisoners captured Friday near Dundee were entrained at Dannhauser. They filled ten trucks. The officers travelled first class and a separate van was provided for two wounded officers. An enormous crowd assembled at the station here to witness their arrival, but there was no demonstration. When they alighted the prisoners were received with funeral silence upon the part of the crowd. The greatest order and decorum prevailed while they were traversing the streets. The wounded were taken to a hospital while the other officers and men were marched to the race course, escorted by mounted burghers and were encamped on the spot where Jameson's troops were confined. The officers (Lieutenant Colonel Moller, Major Greville and Captain Pollock, of the Eighteenth Hussars, and Captain Lonsdale, Lieutenant Le Mesurier, Lieutenant Garvie, Lieutenant Grimshaw, Lieutenant Majendie and Lieutenant Shore, of the Dublin Fusiliers) looked in good health. They are quartered in a building apart from the men. On giving their parole they will be allowed the freedom of the whole enclosure. The men appear indifferent and spend most of their time smoking. They sleep on the grand stand.

Details Coming in Slowly.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Details of the fighting at Rietfontein are coming in slowly. A special dispatch from Ladysmith dated October 24, filed after the fight says: "On discovery that the Boers were massed to the westward of the main road to Dundee an attempt was made by a train to recover the body of Colonel Scott-Chisholme, killed at Elandslaagte. The train was fired upon and obliged to retire and General White moved out to attack the Boers believed to be Free Staters, who should have joined the Transvaalers at Elandslaagte. General White commanded personally. The Fifth Lancers were placed on either flank. They first came in touch with the Boers below Modder-spruit, where 1,500 burghers occupied a strong ridge, whence they opened fire at 1,200 yards, hitting several of the British. In the meanwhile the Erdars and Natal Carbineers advanced unscathed through an opening in the ridge, under the fire of a Boer gun, while the Imperial light horse took part of the crest of the ridge, the Boers retiring. At about nine, however, a Boer gun stationed on the crest of Matawanaskop opened fire with great accuracy on the main force which, in the meantime had come up; but, the shells failed to explode and the British artillery silenced the opposition. The whole British force then advanced and the action became general. A large body of Boers occupied strong positions at Matawanaskop and the precipitous ridges surrounding it. The British guns shelled the positions and the infantry advanced under cover of the fire.

The Gloucesters and Devons crossed a fearful fire-zone beneath Tuitanyoni hill, whence the Boers poured a withering fire with such effect that thirty of the attackers dropped within a distance of 200 yards. Seeing the peril of the Devons and Gloucesters General White dispatched the Carbineers and Liverpools to take the enemy in the rear.

Rifle and Artillery Duel.

A fierce rifle and artillery duel was maintained for some time. The British Maxims rattled but the Boers, under cover of the rocks, remained cool and replied with an increased rifle fire. The British artillery swept the face of the hill and at length the shells became so destructive that the Boers retreated to another ridge, whence they were dislodged by the volunteers in the face of a galling fire. The Boers soon reformed and took up a position on another ridge, but the volunteers dashed across the intervening plateau, again rushed the Boer position and drove them back to the main force, occupying Matawanaskop. The British then shelled the latter until clusters of Boers were seen leaving and retreating westward, when the engagement closed.

A special from Glencoe Camp dated October 23, says: "After the victory Friday the British imagined they were free from further molestation for some days, but they soon found that the earlier reports of a sweeping success were exaggerated. The reported capture of all the Boers guns was incorrect. The burghers succeeding in removing some of them before the British carried the hill, leaving only the riflemen behind to cover their retreat.

"On Saturday news was received of the approach of General Joubert's main column, threatening Dundee. General Yule quickly recognized the impossibility of defending both Dundee and Glencoe against such superiority of numbers, sent word to Ladysmith of his dangerous situation and ordered the evacuation of Dundee. Most of the inhabitants went southward on Saturday. The British camp was also removed in anticipation of an attack on Dundee, which commenced with long range firing by the big guns at daybreak Sunday. The Boers made excellent practice and the shells from a forty-pounder occupying the Impati mountains dropped in and around the town. In the meanwhile the British had reached Glencoe in safety. These orders reached General Yule on Monday to fall back on Ladysmith. At the same time he was informed that a large force was awaiting at Elandslaagte to assist his retirement. Glencoe camp, accordingly was quietly evacuated. The precarious position of the British was not known to the Boers."

Other War Bulletin.

When he awoke yesterday he proceeded to dress himself, but fell asleep on the lounge. His wife was unable to arouse him and sent for a physician. The doctor worked with him all day and until 3 o'clock this morning, when Dr. Lobdell died. He was conscious at times and informed those about him that he had taken two ounces of the drug.

Secretary Root has ordered a company of United States troops from Fort Huachuca to Naco.

Pittsburgh & Western Wreck.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT WANTS

Is a Declaration by Congress in Favor of Asserting and Maintaining Sovereignty Over the Philippines.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says: Prompt declaration by Congress in favor of asserting and maintaining complete sovereignty over the Philippines, with whatever cost, and in favor of the most liberal kind of self-government, when the insurrection ends, is what the President wants. It is also what the Philippine commissioners want. There is a great deal yet for the President to do on his message, and for the peace commissioners to do on their report, but this one important conclusion is certain.

Your correspondent has excellent authority for the statement that the President intends to make specific recommendations to Congress in favor of holding the Philippines permanently, and as to the form of civil government, to take the place of the military as soon as the Tagals in rebellion surrender. It is authoritatively stated that there will be no half-way measures suggested until after the next campaign. The President will face the issue squarely, and give Congress the best information possible from his commissioners, and other sources to support the position he has assumed.

Although members of the Philippine commission are not talking for publication, there is no doubt they will lay great stress in their report upon the desirability of prompt and emphatic declaration, on the part of Congress, which will convince those now in rebellion that all branches of the government are united on the question of permanent American control in the Philippines. Such action, in the opinion of Admiral Dewey and Prof. Schurman, will be almost as effective as guns in ending the war in the Philippines.

It is now only a question of the specific kind of government the President will recommend. He will be governed in his decision by the views of the Philippine commissioners, whose final decision will be the result of deliberations they are here for now. The first meeting of the committee will be held in the state department to-morrow, but they will probably not begin the actual preparation of their report before next Monday.

FALLEN HEROES.

All Bodies to be Brought From Philippines.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A special to the Times from Washington says: D. H. Rhodes, an employee of the quartermaster's department, who superintended the removal of the dead bodies from Cuba this spring, has departed for Manila, to make arrangements for bringing to this country the bodies of the boys in blue who have fallen in battle or died of disease in the Philippine Islands. The promise made by the President at the time of the breaking out of the Spanish war that the bodies of all soldiers who fell in battle or died of disease in foreign countries should be returned to their country for final interment, will be strictly adhered to in regard to the Philippine war. The first bodies will be sent back by the returning troops to the islands, and will probably reach this country about the first of the week.

The remaining bodies of American soldiers left in Cuba and Porto Rico last spring, and the bodies of those who died in the islands will be brought back to this country in December.

Mr. Wildman to Remain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A special to the Times from Washington says: The story that Mr. Wildman is to be removed from the post of United States consul general at Hong Kong, and replaced by Edward Bedloe, late consul at Canton, which originated in Portland yesterday, is emphatically denied at the state department. The supposed cause for removal as reported, was Wildman's friendliness to Aguinaldo. Bedloe's own case has not yet been disposed of, and the charges against him before the President. The belief here is that he will be reinstated in the consular service.
